THIS IS UNEVALUATED INFORMATION

From 1 to 10 July 1951, 32,000 troops wounded in Korea arrived in Mukden and Changchun. Among them were two seriously wounded Chinese Communist division commanders who were sent to hospitals in Dairen around 12 July, and 1,300 Chinese Communist officers, who were placed in a hospital in Changchun, where they will remain. The rest of the wounded will be sent soon from Changchun and Mukden to hospitals at Hsinyang (114-08, 32-09), Chenghsien (113-40, 34-45), Sian, Changsha and Shanghai because of insufficient hospital space in Changchun and Mukden.

Comment. The Chinese Communists are apparently taking advantage of the lull in fighting resulting from cease-fire talks to evacuate wounded from Korea.
